If on the instruction of his employer such an employee resumes or continues work without having had such 10 consecutive hours off duty he shall be paid at double rates until he is released from duty for such period and he shall then be entitled to be absent until he has had 10 consecutive hours off duty without loss of pay for ordinary working time occurring during such absence.

The provisions of this subclause shall apply in the case of shift workers as if eight hours were substituted for 10 hours when overtime is worked:

- (i) for the purpose of changing shift rosters; or

(a) From 1 January 1984, wages shall be paid as follows:

Special Note - Explanation of Averaging System

As provided in this subclause an employee whose ordinary hours may be more or less than 38 in any particular week of a work cycle, is to be paid his wages on the basis of an averaging of 38 ordinary hours so as to avoid fluctuating wage payments each week. An explanation of the averaging system of paying wages is set out below:

- (1) Clause 46 - Implementation of 38-Hour Week, provides in subclause (b)(iii) and (iv) that in implementing a 38-hour week the ordinary hours of an employee may be arranged so that he is entitled to a day off, on a fixed or rostered day basis, during each work cycle. It is in these circumstances that the averaging system would apply.
- (2) If the 38-hour week is to be implemented so as to give an employee a day off in each work cycle this would be achieved if, during a work cycle of 28 consecutive days (that is, over four consecutive weeks) the employee's ordinary hours were arranged on the basis that for three of the four weeks he worked 40 ordinary hours each week and in the fourth week he worked 32 ordinary hours.

In such a case the averaging system applies and the weekly wage rates for ordinary hours of work applicable to the employee shall be the average weekly wage rates set out for the employee's classification in Clause 8 - Wage Rates, Division C - Auxiliary Services, subclause 1 - Wage Rates of this award, and shall be paid each week even though more or less than 38 hours are worked that week. In effect, under the averaging system, the employee accrues a 'credit' each day he works actual ordinary hours in excess of the daily average of which would otherwise be seven hours 36 minutes. This 'credit' is carried forward so that in the week of the cycle that he works on only four days, his actual pay would be for an average of 28 ordinary hours, even though, that week, he works only a total of 32 ordinary hours.

Consequently, for each day an employee works eight ordinary hours he accrues a 'credit' of 24 minutes (0.4 hours). The maximum 'credit' the employee may accrue under this system is 0.4 hours on 18 days; that is, a total of 7 hours 36 minutes.

- (3) Clause 46 - Implementation of 38-Hour Week provides in subclause (b)(v) that in implementing a 38 hour week an employee may accrue his rostered days off to a maximum of six days. In such cases the averaging system as detailed in paragraph (ii) above applies and the employee accrues a credit which is carried forward for a period of 6 months.

This document is translated from the original order and is not in itself a legal document. No responsibility is taken for any discrepancy that may arise between this document and the order that was printed and published by the Printing Authority of Tasmania.

- (4) As provided in subclause (b) of this clause, an employee will not accrue a 'credit' for each day he is absent from duty other than on annual leave, long service leave, public holiday, paid sick leave, bereavement leave or jury service. When an employee is absent from duty because of annual leave, bereavement leave or jury service, his entitlement is determined in accordance with the appropriate award provision dealing with such entitlements.
- (5) Where in establishments the 38-hour week is implemented in accordance with subclause (b) of this clause an employee who works shift work and who is entitled to payment of a shift allowance as provided by Clause 55 - Shifts of this award, shall accrue a 'credit' of a shift allowance in direct proportion to the ordinary hours accrued for the purpose of his rostered day or days off.

(b) Absences from Duty

- (i) An employee whose ordinary hours are arranged in accordance with Clause 46 - Implementation of 38-Hour Week, subclause (b)(iii), (iv) and (v) of this award and who is paid wages in accordance with subclause (a) of this clause and is absent from duty (other than on annual leave, long service leave public holidays, paid sick leave, bereavement leave or jury service) shall, for each day he is so absent, lose average pay for that day calculated by dividing his average daily pay rate by eight.
- (ii) PROVIDED that, when such an employee is absent from duty for a whole day without pay he will not accrue a 'credit' because he would not have worked ordinary hours that day in excess of 7 hours 36 minutes for which he would have otherwise been paid. Consequently, during the week of the work cycle he is to work less than 38 ordinary hours he will not be entitled to average pay for that week. In that week, the average pay will be reduced by the amount of the 'credit' he does not accrue for each whole day during the work cycle he is absent.

The amount by which an employee's average weekly pay will be reduced when he is absent from duty (other than on annual leave, long service leave, public holidays, paid sick leave, bereavement leave or jury service), is to be calculated as follows:

Total of 'credits' not accrued during cycle x $\frac{\text{average weekly pay}}{38}$

Examples:

(An employee's ordinary hours are arranged so that he works eight ordinary hours on five days of each week for three weeks and eight ordinary hours on four days of the fourth week).

1. Employee takes one day off without authorisation in first week of cycle.

- 1st week = average weekly pay less one day's pay.
(i.e. less 1/5th)
- 2nd and 3rd weeks = average weekly pay each week
- 4th week = average weekly pay
less credit not accrued on day of absence.
- = Average weekly pay

2. Employee takes each of the 4 days off without authorisation in the fourth week.

Week of Cycle	Payment
1st, 2nd and 3rd weeks	= average weekly pay each week
4th week	= average weekly pay less 4/5ths of average weekly pay for the four days absent less total of credits not accrued that week

	= 1/5 average weekly pay less 1.6 hours x $\frac{\text{average weekly pay}}{38}$

- (c) In establishments where wages are paid weekly such payment shall not be made later than Thursday; provided that shift workers finishing work on Friday mornings shall be paid their wages before ceasing work.

Proof of the existence of such a circumstance shall be upon the Company. In such circumstances the Company shall pay wages as soon as it is reasonably practicable for it to do so.

PROVIDED further that if an employee is stood down on his or her normal pay day the employee may collect his or her wages without being entitled to a penalty payment for that attendance pursuant to Clause 59 - Terms of Engagement, subclause (g) of this award.

- (f) Where the services of an employee are dispensed with his or her wage shall be paid on the day of dismissal or forwarded by post on the day following; provided that in the case of an employee whose ordinary hours are arranged in accordance with Clause 46 - Implementation of 38-Hour Week, subclause (b)(iii), (iv) and (v) of this award and is paid average pay and who has not taken the day or days off due to him during the work cycle in which his employment is terminated, the wages due to the employee shall include the total of credits accrued during the work cycle as detailed in the Special Note following Clause 52 - Payment of Wages, subclause (b)(iii) of this award; provided further that where an employee has taken a day or days off during the work cycle in which his employment is terminated the wages due to that employee shall be reduced by the total of credits which have not accrued during the cycle.
- (g) Not more than two days' pay of each employee shall be kept in hand by an employer.
- (h) Payment of wages is to be made on the day before a holiday if a holiday falls on the pay day. Provided that such payment may not include overtime, piecework and/or bonus earnings earned on the last day preceding the holiday. These payments may be made on the subsequent pay day.

The notice setting forth the above particulars shall remain the property of the employee.

- (j) Where an employer and employee agree, the employee may be paid his wages by cheque or by direct payment into the employee's bank account without a requirement for the employer to provide encashment facilities.
- (k) Wages may be paid fortnightly or monthly subject to agreement being reached with the employee.
- (l) Calculation of Hourly Rate

Except as provided in subclause (b)(i) of this clause, hourly rates shall be calculated by dividing the appropriate weekly rate by 38.

53. PERIOD OF TRANSITION

Any employee whose ordinary hours of work between the 1 January 1984 and 24 January 1984, inclusive, exceeded an average of thirty eight per week as provided in Clause 46 - Implementation of 38-Hour Week, shall:

 - (iii) the payment or deduction of payment in lieu of notice of termination of employment shall be calculated on a proportionate basis. For example, where an employee was rostered for 20 hours in the preceding week, then the pro rata amount is 19/38 of the rate of wage for the classification involved;
 - (iv) the total provisions of this award as regards annual leave, sick pay and public holidays shall apply to such part-time employees but they shall be paid in respect of the period of such annual leave and sick pay only in proportion to the average number of hours worked each week during the previous six months or if there is not a six month period of employment then the average on the actual period of employment. Provided that in the case of public holidays a part-time employee shall only be entitled to payment for the number of hours he would normally have worked had the day been an ordinary working day;
 - (v) save as aforesaid all the provisions of this award shall apply to such part-time employees.
- (h) Notwithstanding anything elsewhere contained in this clause but subject to subclause (d) of this clause the first month of employment will be on a trial basis and may be terminated by two day's notice by either side except during the first week of employment when termination will be by one hour's notice on either side; provided that if the requisite notice is not given during this period the payment or forfeiture of one hour or two day's wages depending upon when termination is effected will be applied.

1. INTRODUCTION

As from 18 June 1992 a complete new classification structure will be included in the award. This structure will be based solely on skill, competency and responsibility.

Comprehensive definitions will accompany each grade.

It will be necessary to classify each employee into the appropriate grade. In circumstances whereby this cannot be agreed, a dispute resolution mechanism is in place.

The new wage rates at each level will be phased in through four instalments 9 months apart. This is known as the Minimum Rate Adjustment (MRA) process.

The creation of this new structure, together with significant changes to Award Conditions of Employment will complete the structural efficiency process arising out of the October 1991 National Wage decision.

This document is translated from the original order and is not in itself a legal document. No responsibility is taken for any discrepancy that may arise between this document and the order that was printed and published by the Printing Authority of Tasmania.

See Clause 7 - Definitions of the award.

4. GRADING AND TRANSLATION

All employees are to be classified in accordance with the new structure by 18 June 1992.

This classification process involves a matching of:

The position requirements, and the individual employee with the definitions contained in Section 3.

All definitions are structured in the same format.

In essence to be graded at a particular level, the General Requirements specified in 'B' together with one or more of the broad "Skill Requirements" in 'C' must be satisfied.

This document is translated from the original order and is not in itself a legal document. No responsibility is taken for any discrepancy that may arise between this document and the order that was printed and published by the Printing Authority of Tasmania.

NOTE: It is the responsibility of the employer to identify the 'principal functions' of an individual employee.

4.1 Existing Employees (i.e. employed as at 18 June 1992)

Prima facie existing employees shall translate to the new structure in accordance with the following schedule.

There may be instances whereby after examination of the duties, responsibilities, etc, and the new definitions, an employee should be classified at a level higher than indicated in the schedule above.

Example

An employee currently classified as second year adult service satisfies the definition of the new Grade 3.

In this circumstance the following should apply:

As at 18 June Employee translates in accordance with schedule i.e. in the above example, the employee would be classified as a Grade 2B.

This document is translated from the original order and is not in itself a legal document. No responsibility is taken for any discrepancy that may arise between this document and the order that was printed and published by the Printing Authority of Tasmania.

In the above example, employee would be reclassified to a Grade 3A.

4.2 New Employees

Employees engaged subsequent to 18 June 1992 shall be classified strictly in accordance with the definitions.

5. MINIMUM RATES ADJUSTMENT

The new rates will be phased in through the process of the Minimum Rates Adjustment (MRA).

This process will involve four instalments, 9 months apart.

The actual amounts vary between grades.

The schedule for the MRA process is as below and each MRA will require a separate application to the Commission:

1st MRA	18 June 1992
2nd MRA	18 March 1993
3rd MRA	18 December 1993
4th MRA	18 September 1994

Overaward Payment

Increases arising out of the MRA process are to be absorbed against any existing overaward payments.

Similarly, where an existing overaward payment results in a wage rate higher than the appropriate grading, no wage increase should be paid, and the difference (if any) maintained as an overaward payment for that individual employee.

Adult Entry

The award provides that an adult (over 21 years of age) with less than 12 months clerical experience with any employer, may be classified at the adult entry point for the balance of the 12 months. Thereafter, the employee must be classified in accordance with the definitions.

In the case of part-time and casual employees, 12 months experience is defined as 1660 hours actual service.
