7. DEFINITIONS

- (a) General Definitions

'Casual employee' means a person engaged to work for a period not exceeding five consecutive days, or on an irregular basis as required by the employer.

'Employee' means a person employed under the provisions of the Tasmanian State Service Act 1984 or the Tasmanian Development Act 1983 or the Retirement Benefits Act 1993.

'Employer' means the Minister for Public Sector Administration or the Tasmanian Development Authority, or the Retirement Benefits Fund Board.

This document is translated from the original order and is not in itself a legal document. No responsibility is taken for any discrepancy that may arise between this document and the order that was printed and published by the Printing Authority of Tasmania.

'Full-time employee' means a person engaged to work for the full ordinary weekly hours of work of the relevant position.

'Part-time employee' means a person engaged to work on a regular basis for a lesser number of ordinary weekly hours than is applicable to an equivalent full-time employee.

(b) Classification Standard Definitions

'Administrative work' means the exercise of an appropriate level of responsibility and discretion in undertaking functions of an administrative nature where administration is concerned with achievement of the organisation's corporate goals through planning, organising, directing and controlling resources and/or activities. Administration is also concerned with the development and implementation of policy to achieve set objectives and desired outcomes.

'Broad direction' means that employees are expected to develop and achieve objectives for specific functions under their control that will ensure the attainment of results critical to the efficient operation of the work Unit, Section, Branch or Agency.

'Clerical direction' means instructions and guidance on particular tasks and programs given by supervisors or managers to subordinate staff. It includes direction from sources such as legislation, standards and manuals.

'Clerical supervision' means supervision provided by supervisors or managers to subordinate staff to ensure adherence to directions given, to decide on proposed solutions or courses of action, and to review and check the work of clerical staff.

'Clerical work' means the exercise of an appropriate level of responsibility and clerical knowledge and skill under a requisite degree of direction and supervision in the understanding of the preparation, processing and maintenance of documents, records and electronic data representing the transactions or business of the work unit or organisation being served. Clerical work is performed within a framework of legislation, policies, procedures, regulations, guidelines, precedents, instructions, or custom and practice, both written and oral.

'Direct supervision' means there is limited responsibility for the final outcome of work undertaken because only limited discretion is available to select the appropriate means of completing the task. Conformity with instruction is measured by the satisfactory completion of allocated tasks.

'General direction' means situations where detailed or specific instructions are limited to unusual features.

This document is translated from the original order and is not in itself a legal document. No responsibility is taken for any discrepancy that may arise between this document and the order that was printed and published by the Printing Authority of Tasmania.

'General supervision' means that general instructions are given and tasks are undertaken to achieve the required outcomes or objectives. Discretion and choice in selecting the most appropriate method for completing the allotted tasks is expected and encouraged.

'Limited supervision' means that work is undertaken within established objectives and with little guidance. Conformity with instructions is usually measured in terms of achievement of stated objectives to senior management-agreed standards.

'Routine supervision' means the responsibility for the final outcome is limited because the work is carried out in accordance with established guidelines and practices, however there is scope for the exercise of discretion in the choice of work methods.

'Specific direction' means situations where precise instructions are given with little or no choice provided.
